Title :A Single Inductor Multi-Port Power Converter for Electric Vehicle Application

Role: Team Lead

- This research presents a non-isolated multi-port power converter feasible to hybridize energy alternatives in electric vehicles
- The utilization of multilevel inverters reduces the total harmonic distortion and torque ripples in motor drives in electric vehicles.
- The proposed converter consists of less number of components making the circuit simple and cost-effective
- With one inductor, two various modes are obtained for charging and discharging states concerning the energy storage units.
